

Question Groups

With iSpring QuizMaker 7, you can create groups of questions inside a quiz. Groups of questions can be very useful if your quiz includes sets of questions on several different subjects.

Your quiz may include all questions from all groups in a fixed order, or you can set different rules for different groups within your quiz. Moreover, you can select the number of questions from each group to be asked.

You can lock question position by linking questions of a group together or attaching a question to the beginning or the end of the group.
