Getting Started with iSpring Converter

With iSpring Converter you can easily create mobile-ready video courses and interactive presentations right in PowerPoint.
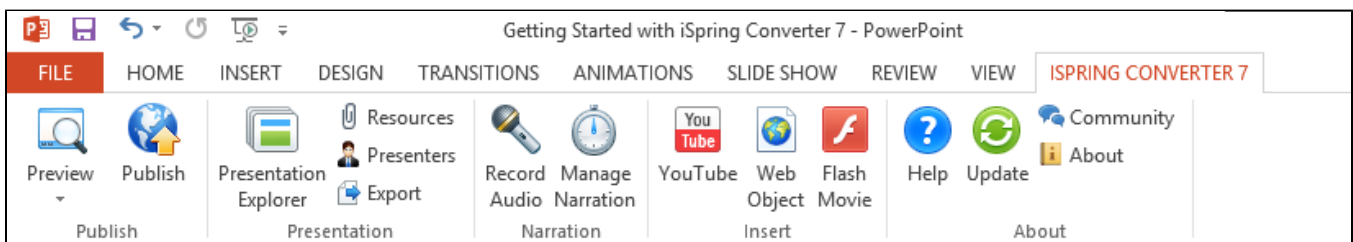

- Quick Start
- Adding New Elements to PowerPoint Presentations
- Publishing PowerPoint Presentations to Flash and HTML5

Quick Start

As you start iSpring Converter, you will see a Quick Start screen, which gives you access to the basic operations with the product. From this window, you can create a new presentation, open from the list of recent presentations, or choose to browse media resources related to iSpring Converter.

iSpring Converter is a PowerPoint add-in, and it appears as an additional tab on the PowerPoint ribbon.

Adding New Elements to PowerPoint Presentations

Once you install iSpring Converter, you can enhance your PowerPoint presentations with the following types of media, resources and e-Learning content:

- Flash movies
- YouTube videos
- Web Objects
- Background audio
- Presenter info
- External resources

Publishing PowerPoint Presentations to Flash and HTML5

When your PowerPoint presentation is ready for publishing, you can convert it to Flash and HTML5. iSpring Converter gives you control over the following options:

- General Options
- Playback and navigation
- Compression of media elements
- Advanced parameters
- Content protection
- Learning Course parameters

Click on the Publish button to configure output options and convert your presentation to Flash and HTML5.