

Course Completion Order

Specify how your students are supposed to take the course content items: sequentially or optionally.

- 1. On the Edit Course page, open the Outline tab and click Course Settings.

- 2. In the Course completion settings window, choose one of the options in the Module Navigation menu. Then, click Save changes.

Users take required course modules one after another. They can proceed to the next required item only after they complete the previous one.

Important:

1. The required content items are selected in the Completion condition menu.
2. If you want your learners to pass all the course modules one by one, in the Completion condition menu, choose the Complete all modules option.

The screenshot shows a dialog box titled "Course completion settings" with a close button (X) in the top right corner. It contains two main sections: "Module navigation:" and "Completion condition:". The "Module navigation:" section has a dropdown menu set to "Restricted" and a subtext: "Learners can't proceed to a new section until they have completed the previous one". The "Completion condition:" section has a dropdown menu set to "Complete all modules", which is highlighted with an orange border. At the bottom, there are two buttons: "Save changes" (green) and "Cancel" (white).

3. If, in the Completion condition menu, you have chosen the Complete selected modules option, users will take one by one only those modules which are added to the selected modules list.

All the remaining modules, which are not required to complete the course, will be available to your students right after the course is assigned.

The screenshot shows a dialog box titled "Course completion settings" with a close button (X) in the top right corner. It contains two main sections: "Module navigation:" and "Completion condition:". The "Module navigation:" section has a dropdown menu set to "Restricted" and a subtext: "Learners can't proceed to a new section until they have completed the previous one". The "Completion condition:" section has a dropdown menu set to "Complete selected modules", which is highlighted with an orange border. Below this dropdown is a list of selected modules: "How to Create a Mobile-First Online Cours..." and "Create a Landing Page", each with a close button (X). Below the list is another dropdown menu set to "– Select module –". At the bottom, there are two buttons: "Save changes" (green) and "Cancel" (white).

Free

Learners may take course items randomly, irrespective of any other content item completion.

Course completion settings ×

Module navigation:  ▼

All sections are available for users to take

Completion condition:  ▼