

Assignments

With the Assignments feature, you give your learners freeform tasks as homework. For instance, you can ask learners to compose a reply to a customer's email, create a product presentation, make a project implementation plan, or build a landing page.

Users who are enrolled into a freeform assignment will receive a notification in the user portal and then will start working at it. After the assignment is done, learners send it to the instructor to get verified. The instructor will check and grade the assignment, accepting or declining it.
