iSpring SDK

iSpring SDK (software development kit) is a high-performance solution that provides websites and online applications with automatic PowerPoint to HTML 5 conversion functions. It performs fast batch conversion of thousands of PowerPoint presentations into a web-friendly HTML format.

You can easily integrate HTML presentations and slides into rich media applications, Learning Management Systems (LMS), Web conferencing systems, and other web applications.

iSpring SDK provides the following features:

1. Automatic presentation conversion using Command Line interface

2. Total programmatic control over the presentation and slide playback

3. 180+ animation effects support

4. All slide transitions support

5. PowerPoint 2007/2010/2013/2016/2019 and Open Office presentations support

6. Hyperlinks and action buttons

7. Trigger animations support

8. Embedded video clips processing

9. Multi-threaded presentation processing