

Assignments

With the Assignments feature, not only can you give your students tests, dialogs, and courses as homework, but also freeform tasks. For instance, you can ask learners to compose a reply to a customer's email, create a product presentation, make a project implementation plan, or build a landing page.

The student who is assigned to a freeform task will receive a notification, start to do it, and when the assignment is ready, will send it to the administrator to get checked. The administrator will verify and grade the assignment and will accept it or decline.
