

Interaction Types

iSpring Visuals allows you to create interactions in HTML5 format.

With those educational aids, you can convert your schemes, guidelines, and catalogs into training courses that get users involved in the interaction. Choose the appropriate type of the interaction that best represents your data, and build a course of your own filling the interaction template with text, images, video, audio and more.